QUESTION AND RESPONSE

- 1. QUESTION: What is the response deadline?
RESPONSE: October 29, 2026 at 1:30PM
- 2. QUESTION: How should my response be submitted?
RESPONSE: Responses should be dropped off or mailed MHMR's administrative location at:
ATTN: Provider Relations
3840 Hulen Street (North Tower)
Fort Worth, TX 76107

Responses should include one original and an electronic (flash drive) copy. Responses may not be submitted via email, and submissions made via email may be disqualified.
- 3. QUESTION: Will all participants/patients require housing?
RESPONSE: Housing needs will depend on the particular situation of the patient. Given that the patient population is being diverted from jail, it is expected that a majority of the patients will have housing needs.
- 4. QUESTION: Based on the cost of rent/utilities for up to 3 months, the available funding remaining for supportive services may allow for less than the 25 of the highest intensive patients per state fiscal year, is there a minimum number served that is acceptable?
RESPONSE: Services are intended to be aligned with individual patient need, so it is not anticipated that each patient receive the same volume of each listed service. Respondents should do their best to propose a rate that covers the most participants given the services provided and may outline in its proposal conditions or assumptions that justify its proposed case rate.
- 5. QUESTION: Given the funding ends August 2027, is the preference to offer case management services up to 12 months, in consultation with MHMR and based on individual level of need tied to additional funding?
RESPONSE: At this time, there is no additional identified funding for case management. Proposals should assume that the bundled case rate includes case management for up to 12 months, but if no alternative funding is available or identified, the timeframe for services and resulting case rate may be negotiated between the awarded Respondent and MHMR.

6. QUESTION: Is the medication management to stabilize psychiatric symptoms utilizing antidepressants, mood stabilizers, anti-psychotics, and anti-anxiety medications to be conducted by the subrecipient and if so, what credentials are required?
- RESPONSE: MHMR or an external provider will provide medication management.
7. QUESTION: What level of case consultation does MHMR anticipate between program staff and MHMR clinical teams and will subcontractor staff be expected to participate in routine case staffing meetings, care coordination meetings, or multidisciplinary team reviews with MHMR?
- RESPONSE: MHMR anticipates participation in teaming meetings at least once per week to review Subcontractor's existing case load.
8. QUESTION: Does MHMR expect that awarded subcontractors will provide licensed health professionals directly, or would those services remain under MHMR's responsibility while the subcontractor focuses on housing stabilization and support services?
- RESPONSE: Subcontractor will focus on housing stabilization and support services. Services requiring a license are not included in the array of services expected from Subcontractor.
9. QUESTION: Are subcontractors expected to have 24/7 crisis response availability?
- RESPONSE: If Subcontractor has available services or has an enhanced rate for 24/7 crisis response availability, it should so denote in its proposal, but it is not anticipated that Subcontractor have 24/7 crisis response availability if they can provide the full array of services within normal business hours.
10. QUESTION: If a participant disengages from services early or exits the program before completing planned interventions, how will reimbursement be handled under the all-inclusive rate structure?
- RESPONSE: It is anticipated that disengagement or early exit will result in a pro-rated amount of a proposed case rate based on the amount of time that the participant actually received services. Finalized terms related to pro-ration may be subject to negotiation between the parties, but Subcontractor may denote a proposed structure that is acceptable in its Response for consideration.
